

The Leaf

The Eva B. Dykes Library
Newsletter
November 2015
Vol. I, No. 2

November's Library Recognition Awardees

Aaron Edwards (Copy Center)
Chantelle Johnson (Reference)
Funmilayo Kalejaiye (Archives)
Kayla Snow (Computer Lab)
Mariah Jackson (Media Resources)
Meseret Nicholson (Circulation)
Rhondi Gordon (Tech Services)
Samuel Parkins (Circulation)
Congratulations, students!

Mango Languages

Are you studying Koine Greek for your theology degree?

Or Haitian Creole for an upcoming trip? Or German pronunciation for your voice class? Or Japanese just for fun?

If so, Mango Languages' tutorials in 71 languages might be your new best friend. Visit <https://connect.mangolanguages.com/oakwood/start> to get started, or ask a librarian for a guided tour.

Your Questions Answered

Q: The study room above me is being really loud. Can you come and talk to them?

A: Absolutely! You can report noise to us in person, or remotely by chat or text (256-429-2629).

Q: Does the library have DVDs that we can check out?

A: Yes — a large collection, ranging from local sermons and animated kids' Bible stories to classic literary adaptations and modern blockbusters. You can browse them in the online catalog. To browse our DVD collection in person, enter the library by the front door and turn left after you pass the Copy Center. You'll see the Media Resources sign against the far wall.

Q: Do you still sell whiteboard markers?

A: Yes, we do. They're $0.75 each, or two for $1. Stop by the circulation desk or the Copy Center to buy them.

Looking Ahead

Noon on Wednesday, Nov. 25–Sunday, Nov. 29: Library closed

Thursday, Nov. 26: Thanksgiving

Dec. 6–8: Fall Exam Café

